Old Shawneetown To Vote June 30 On Incorporation

Voters will ballot June 30 on the question of incorporating Old Shawneetown.

Most everybody is certain that the Old Shawneetown voters will approve the incorporation into a village and that the community will be officially named Old Shawneetown.

The election was ordered by Joe Hale, Gallatin county judge, after he was presented a petition Wednesday, bearing 55 names, which asked for the election on incorporation.

Another election must follow if the proposition passes, to name six village trustees and a village president.

Right now Old Shawneetown is officially a rural area, following its separation from the new town.

Stratton Tells VFW Session on Bonus Possible

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Gov. William G. Stratton today told Illinois Veterans of Foreign Wars that bonus payments "no matter how much they amount to, are only small gestures from the people of a grateful state."

A legislative commission is now studying proposals for a bonus for Korean veterans, with the possibility of a special legislative session to submit a bonus plan to the voters in the November election.

Stratton spoke at the 37th annual encampment of the Illinois VFW, and the state VFW women's auxiliary.

"Neither the state nor the nation can ever fully discharge their responsibilities or obligations to the veterans of the armed forces," Stratton said.

But, the governor said, "those of us who have served our nation in time of war realize we were meeting a duty that long has been expected of us all."

Stratton also called upon all veterans' organizations to improve the services they can provide for veterans and their survivors and dependents.

VICE COMMANDER HITS FOREIGN AID AS 'GIVE AWAY'

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — The national senior vice commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars condemned foreign aid Thursday as a "giveaway."

Cooper T. Holt, 31, Chattanooga, Tenn., who will become VFW national commander in August, told a preliminary session of the 37th encampment of the Illinois Veterans of Foreign Wars that the American people "would be more willing to give our veterans benefit programs more money rather than to send so much overseas in the form of our present give away program."

Fairfield Man Is Electrocuted

ST. JAMES, Ill. (UP) — Samuel W. Coburn, 32, Fairfield, was electrocuted Monday when a high tension wire fell on equipment connected to an oil rig on which he was working.

Two fellow workmen were burned, Coburn was employed by the Tri-State Casing Co. of Fairfield.

Southern Senators Hostile to Plan for Walkout from Party

WASHINGTON (UP) — Southerners in Congress generally took an apathetic, wary, or hostile attitude today toward a South Carolina plan which could trigger a southern Democratic walkout from the national party.

This proposal originated in the South Carolina Democratic convention and came to southern members of Congress this week in a letter from Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr.

It called for a caucus of southern national convention delegates to agree on a program of united action on issues, such as racial segregation, of deep concern to the South. It also proposed that southern state conventions keep a door open to permit reconvening of southern delegates after the national convention.

Timmerman and Sen. Thomas A. Wofford (D-SC) both insisted that the plan was not aimed at formation of a third party in the South but rather at avoiding any such

Eisenhower to Confer with Nixon Monday

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower will hold a hospital room conference with Vice President Richard M. Nixon next Monday for the first time since he became ill, it was announced today.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President also will meet Monday with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. This will be the second session with Dulles who was with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer when he called on the President Thursday.

Announcement of the President's plans for next week followed the most optimistic medical bulletin since Mr. Eisenhower entered the hospital a week ago today. The 8:10 a. m. EDT report said the President had "a very good night" and added:

"This, the beginning of the sixth post-operative day, finds the President in excellent spirits."

No Talk of Politics

In response to a flurry of questions as to whether the President has any intentions to announce his political plans from the hospital, Hagerty said "there have been no political discussions" with the President. Hagerty has insisted from the beginning that he does not plan to discuss politics with Mr. Eisenhower while he is in the hospital.

Most of the political questions were prompted by a column published today by Stuart Alsop. He said the President would announce he is still a candidate even before he leaves the hospital "if the confident expectations of the Republican high command are fulfilled."

When he was asked if such an announcement is expected shortly from the President, Hagerty repeated his previous statements namely that the first order of business is to get the President out of the hospital and that there has been no political talk.

During a 15-minute conference with White House aides, Mr. Eisenhower signed his name on 21 documents, including 9 bills.

The President's actions were announced after his brief meeting with Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams and other aides. Hagerty said no other appointments were planned for today, Saturday or Sunday.

A stranger fled from the Harper and Tolley wholesale house about 10 a. m. today and a check of the cash register revealed two ten dollar bills were missing.

Officers reported the man came into the front part of the building, where there was an employee, but that when the employee went to the back of the building for a minute, the person left. He was seen getting into an auto with Indiana license plates.

Heroic Navy Pilot Who Rode Plane to His Death, Credited with Saving Lives

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP) — A heroic Navy pilot who rode his fighter plane to his death after waving a bystander out of the way was credited today with saving several lives at nearby Tarrant City, Ala.

Witnesses said that the pilot, identified as Lt. John R. Robertson, 31, Birmingham, first waved one person out of the path of his F4U Corsair fighter and then deliberately nosed the disabled craft into a dirt street in order to miss a group of homes.

Robertson, a veteran fighter pilot, was killed instantly when the propeller-driven World War II plane, hit the dirt street and exploded into flames. He is survived by his wife, two small daughters and his mother, Mrs. W. P. Robertson of St. Paul, Minn.

John Taylor Jr., whose home is one block from the site of the crash, said he was standing on his front porch when the plane appeared at tree-top level.

Taylor said that the craft was about 50 yards away when the pilot signaled to him. "I saw the pilot push back his helmet and wave to me to get out of the way," he said. "I went in the house and got my wife and child and ran the other way," he added.

Only minutes before the crash occurred, the plane had taken off from the naval air station at Tarrant on a training flight to Minneapolis.

Robertson had radioed the control tower that he was in trouble just before the craft hit in the crowded residential section.

Carbondale Man Pleads Guilty to Killing Sweetheart

MARION, Ill. (UP) — A Carbondale man pleaded guilty here Thursday to a manslaughter charge for the fatal shooting of his sweetheart.

Charles Simon, 22, changed his plea from innocent to guilty after eight prosecution witnesses had testified. Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds sentenced Simon to one to four years in prison.

Simon was accused of manslaughter in the death of Mary Alice Lassiter, 20, Carbondale. She was killed by a bullet from Simon's revolver which he said discharged accidentally as the two sat in a car near a Colp nightclub last fall.

Choking Child Is Speeded to Hospital Here

A choking child escaped possible death last night when it was rushed by speeding truck, then by police car, to Harrisburg hospital where quick action was taken.

The child was the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Evans, who reside on Chaney street south of Taylor Field. Two physicians who were at the hospital at the time quickly applied a suction machine, which removed the substances that were causing the choking.

Chief of Police Ross Lane said the baby was nearly lifeless and turning blue when it arrived at the hospital.

Lane said he was in the police car with Patrolmen Pat Atkinson and Harvey Vinyard near the Midway last night around eight o'clock when they saw a speeding truck headed down the street, horn blowing.

They overtook the truck and finding out the situation, transferred the mother and child to the police car and sped on to the hospital, the police siren sounding and the red light blinking.

Luckily, Lane said, two physicians were on hand when they arrived and the necessary equipment was quickly put to work.

The child was taken home but was to be given an examination today to try to determine the source of its trouble.

Powell Protests Application to Remove Train

Necessity to Area Legislator Says In Letter to ICC

"If there ever was a time this train is a convenience and a necessity to southern Illinois, it is now," State Rep. Paul Powell of Vienna wrote to the Illinois Commerce Commission regarding the New York Central's application to eliminate its Harrisburg-to-Chicago passenger service.

In a letter to George Perrine, ICC chairman at Springfield, Powell protested the application to remove the service.

"When this railroad was given a permit to operate in Illinois it requested this on the grounds of public convenience and necessity," he wrote Perrine, "and in my opinion, if there ever was a time that this train is a convenience and necessity to southern Illinois, it is now."

"I feel," his letter continued, "that the passenger train is an economic necessity, as well as a convenience, because many types of industry, both on and off the road, depend on this service. The company has treated this line almost as a forgotten stepchild, and after the other permit (several years ago when a similar application was made by the NYC) was turned down by your commission they offered some better service, but not the type of service similar to other lines, and if the right type of service and accommodations would be offered, the passenger service would be used more often."

"To discontinue these trains would mean the loss of mail, express and passenger service for this downstate area and will discourage new industry from locating in southern Illinois, which is needed more than ever to provide employment for the hundreds of men and women unemployed through no fault of their own."

The hearing on the application has been continued until July 17. Hundreds of persons living on the line have signed petitions protesting the removal of the passenger service.

Feirich to Leave

On this cruise will be U. S. Naval Reserve officers and members of R. O. T. C. units in 31 colleges and universities.

Mrs. Feirich will fly to Europe during the time her husband will be there.

Big 3 Proposal Too Little, Union Chief Says

Charges Take-Home Offer is Only 5-Cents Per Hour

NEW YORK (UP) — The United Steelworkers today angrily rejected a contract offer from the steel industry's big three.

David J. McDonald, president of the union, said the companies' counter offer to the union's demands was entirely "inadequate."

"The industry offer is too little, too late and too long," McDonald said.

McDonald said the companies have offered the steelworkers a take-home pay increase of 5 cents an hour and "no mathematical juggling" can obscure that figure.

"It is this amount and not a fictitious package that is available to buy groceries," he said.

"After a year of record profits and productivity, the industry has offered the steelworkers a wage increase for this year of 6 cents an hour," McDonald said. "At the same time the industry's offer would require the employees to contribute 1 1/2 cents for insurance."

As a result the average steelworker would realize only a nickel an hour more take-home pay this year, he pointed out.

McDonald confirmed that the companies had offered the union a five-year agreement and a form of guaranteed annual wage.

"The whole contract, instead of being modernized, is to be extended, with its obsolescent features, for too long a period," McDonald told a news conference.

McDonald said the industry has offered fringes that are "already and more generously, incorporated in labor contracts" now in existence throughout industry.

He described the wage offer as "picaresque" and said the companies had rejected the union's request for premium pay for weekend work.

Commenting on the 5-cent take-home pay offered by the companies, McDonald said the companies had offered the union a similar hike for each of the five years the proposed contract would run.

The companies' offer was rejected unanimously by the union's 170-man wage policy committee. The move shook hopes that a new contract for 650,000 steelworkers could be signed in advance of the June 30 strike deadline.

The President's Illness

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

As Americans voice thankful prayers that President Eisenhower is well on his way to recovery from his second major illness within nine months, they face a new period of uncertainty over his political future.

The doubts are stirred not so much by the medical prospects—which are excellent—as by the possible impact this second illness may have upon the President's own state of mind.

The doctors see no reason why this new ailment should prevent his running for a second term. The disease—ileitis—is a fairly common disorder in a man of his age. Operation usually provides a swift cure, and if a recurrence develops it is ordinarily minor.

Ironically, too, in suffering this second difficulty the President seems to have demonstrated the soundness of his recovery from the first, his September heart attack. His heart came through the abdominal operation splendidly.

But it should be remembered that when Mr. Eisenhower said last winter he would run again he reserved the right to change his mind if at any time he became convinced he could not do full justice to his job.

As he moves through this new recovery period, he is certain to examine his own conscience scrupulously on this question.

He is bound to be mindful of the fact that his total work time in the past nine months has been considerably reduced.

He will be aware as well that the present span of convalescence is much more critical for the nation than was the period right after he suffered his heart attack.

The weeks ahead are the most decisive in getting through Congress the main features of his legislative program. And many major items are on the foreign affairs agenda.

German Chancellor Adenauer is here now. Prime Minister Nehru of India is due in July. And the President was due to attend the Inter-American Conference at Panama late this month.

In these meetings there is no substitute for the President. Nor is there when the final congressional push is on.

Mr. Eisenhower knows all this as well as anyone. His concept of duty is unexampled.

In the end he may decide, as Governor Harriman of New York suggested, that his abdominal operation is "just one of those things that can happen to anyone" and should make no difference.

That is what his nervous party leaders, facing a convention Aug. 20, are earnestly hoping.

Whatever his choice, the American people can be sure that the President's decision will be made primarily with their welfare in mind.

'I Feel Fine — You O.K.?'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: American Press Was Remiss In Not Reporting Roosevelt's Health In 1944; Expert On Anticoagulants Warns Off Recurrent Heart Attacks; Heart Specialist Discusses Connection Between Heart And Brain Complications.

WASHINGTON. — Most American newsmen, along with this writer, were remiss in not reporting the real health of President Roosevelt when he ran for reelection in 1944. Less than six months after that re-election he was dead.

There were some legitimate reasons why FDR's health was not reported, among them wartime censorship, the fact that he did not see him much during the war, plus a natural hesitancy to report the unpleasant possibility that a man may die in office.

But when the presidency of the United States influences, as it does, the peace and prosperity of the world, it is essential that American voters know the real facts of health, even beyond the medical bulletins, before they nominate or elect any man to the most important office in the world.

President Eisenhower himself has frankly expressed grave doubt about his health, even while the politicians, exactly as in Roosevelt's case, have been determined to make him run again.

Accordingly, here are some of the facts beyond the brief medical bulletins regarding the health of the man for whose speedy recovery the American people pray today.

Before the President was given his emergency operation it was necessary to administer a vitamin K, intravenously, in order to thicken his blood in preparation for the surgery. This was because he has been given an anticoagulant (dicumarol) ever since his heart attack in Denver, which makes the blood so thin that if care is not taken there is a danger that it may seep through the body tissues.

If the thinning effect of the anticoagulant had not been counteracted there could have been serious, even fatal, bleeding during the operation.

ANTICOAGULANTS

The administration of dicumarol at Denver, though it can be dangerous, is considered one of the most important factors in Ike's heart recovery. Dicumarol was first recommended by Col. Thomas Mattingly, the heart specialist of Walter Reed hospital, who had recently been studying at the Cornell Medical School under Drs. W. T. Foley and Irving S. Wright, two of the nation's top experts on anticoagulants.

Dr. Foley had worked in a Japanese prison camp during the war, where he found that the non-fatty prison diet almost completely eliminated heart disease.

Dr. Wright, who is past president of the American Heart Association and is in charge of the vascular research section of the New York hospital - Cornell Medical center, recently gave significant testimony regarding anticoagulants before the Senate Appropriations subcommittee.

His testimony, though ignored by the press, throws somewhat disturbing light on President Eisenhower's health when it comes to recurrent attacks and the connection between heart and brain. Dr. Wright testified that there was a frequent relationship between a heart attack and hardening of the arteries in the brain.

At the beginning of his testimony, Dr. Wright noted that anticoagulants have been used on thousands of heart patients.

"Included in these," he observed, "is the President of the United States."

The doctor then discussed anticoagulants in detail. Here are some of the startling highlights.

DANGER OF MORE ATTACKS

"Many . . . who survive the first attack have a series of thromboembolic complications over the succeeding years," Dr. Wright declared. "In other words, a patient will have a cerebral thrombosis or stroke; thereafter he may have a coronary thrombosis or a closure of an artery in his leg, followed by another stroke; and this may be a continuing tragic history. And this again was emphasized by the mental health group. There is a relationship, a frequent relationship between thrombosis and arteriosclerosis of the brain and the heart."

In layman's language, what Dr. Wright said was that thrombotic victims may develop hardening of the brain arteries. This diminishes the victim's mental powers.

"Although there may be an interval of a few months or a year or two between the attacks," Wright testified, "the damage is going on. And it may also occur in the arteries of the leg or elsewhere. In many patients, this is a cumulative matter and a continuing tragic history to the patient and the patient's family."

At one point, Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama asked: "Well, now, these anticoagulants you only use where the patient has had some form of thrombosis?"

"No," replied Dr. Wright. "We use them mostly after they have had one or more attacks, because it is not possible at present to predict with accuracy whether they are going to have an attack in the future."

Dr. Wright acknowledged that administering anticoagulants can be dangerous.

"An anticoagulant should never be given except under careful laboratory and clinical supervision," he warned. "Because if a patient takes an excessive amount of anticoagulants he may have hemorrhage."

Dr. Wright sounded one optimistic note when he said:

"Though the use of anticoagulants for the acute episode is not completely established because of lack of time and study, there is strong evidence that following their episode these patients tend to live with fewer complications, and probably longer when they are on anticoagulant therapy."

While the nation prays that the anticoagulants will reduce the complications, the public must realize that the chance of complications does exist. Any doctor who says otherwise is mixing politics with medicine.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
Written for NEA Service

"If you want to get something done ask a busy person."

This statement is an unwritten guide for those who direct community activities and human betterment programs.

Busy people budget their time and organize their energies. They evaluate the importance of demands upon their time. They consider the spiritual importance of the things they want to do, and that they are asked to do.

God uses busy people to carry on the work of the Church. The Sunday School teachers who leave lasting influence on the lives of their classes are the people who are busy serving God and their fellowmen seven days a week. The lay leaders of all kinds of religious programs are the ones who coordinate business activities with the principles of God's teaching.

People who lead active lives find time to pray and to listen to God in the worship process. Prayer quiets jangled nerves and creates an atmosphere of organization and integration. Men and women with full schedules of work and of play are the ones who have time to do more work.

No one is too busy to worship and to study God's way of life for himself. We can all learn to accomplish more than we are accomplishing today with a planned program of worship.

Illinois Employment

At Record High

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Non-farm employment in Illinois totaled a record 3,428,700 at the end of May, up 4,300 from the employment level at mid-April, State Labor Director Roy F. Cummins reported today.

Some 73,400 more workers were employed in non-agricultural jobs than in May, 1955. Much of the increased employment resulted from the "normal seasonal growth" in construction and other non-manufacturing jobs, Cummins said.

The upswing in employment on construction jobs was offset somewhat by a "normal" seasonal decline in manufacturing workers.

Fosters to Join Group in Hike Over Appalachian Trail

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Foster of Harrisburg are joining the Upper Fortian Explorers club of Du Quoin in a six day hiking trip over a 35 mile section of the Appalachian Trail in the Great Smoky Mountains along the Tennessee-North Carolina border.

The trail, said to be the most spectacular of any east of the Mississippi river, is a part of the foot path stretching from Maine to Georgia. The section which the group is to travel was also an old Indian trail leading to what is now Gatlinburg, Tenn., where the group will begin the hike; travels through more than 30 miles of absolute wilderness without passing a single cleared spot, road, building or any sign of habitation. It averages a mile high and is lined with rhododendrons, azaleas and a multitude of other beautiful flowers few of which are even seen in southern Illinois. Much of it is through virgin timber.

The trip is to be a leisurely one and will not be difficult. There is no charge. Each pays his own expenses which is not expected to exceed a total of $15 per person. The group is to be led by Wayman Presley of Makanda, founder and president of the exploring group. Mr. Presley is connected with building the cross atop Bald Knob and the guiding hand of the Easter Sunrise services there.

The hiking group will leave early June 19 and return June 24.

Suspend Subway Motormen for Sudden Strike

NEW YORK (UP) — The Transit Authority suspended 27 subway motormen today and said more than 150 more face suspension and possible dismissal for a sudden work stoppage that shut down subway service for more than a million riders in the hottest evening rush hour of the year.

Twenty-five of those immediately suspended were officers of the striking union, which is still seeking recognition as a bargaining unit. The other two were identified by the company as the motormen who first refused to run their trains. They had declined to work, the TA said, when supervisors appeared to be trained in their jobs in anticipation of a strike threatened for next week.

Thomas J. McLernon, general manager of the TA, said charges would be served on the suspended men today and hearings will be held Monday.

The charges state the men "did precipitate an irresponsible action which disrupted the entire transit system and that this caused undue hardship and inconvenience to transit riders."

More than a million persons took to their feet, jammed unfamiliar bus lines, formed car and taxi pools and hitch-hiked home Thursday night in sizzling 96-degree temperature as the unexpected strike ground subways to a halt.

However, the Transit Authority reported that subway service was "100 per cent on schedule" this morning for the city's 4½ million riders from Brooklyn, the Bronx and Queens.

The tie-up was caused by the suspension of three motormen who refused to carry transit authority supervisory personnel on indoctrination runs.

NEW YORK (UP) — Stocks rose slightly today on reduced volume.

Steel shares slipped off and motormen were sustained by favorable sales reports from the industry. Oils showed gains ranging to a point. Rails were up fractions to more than a point.

Dow-Jones noon averages: Industrial 485.69; up 0.17; rails 166.75, up 0.05; utility 66.31, up 0.16; and 65 stocks 174.08, up 0.12.

Film Star Jeanne Crain Upset by Husband's Charges

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Pretty film star Jeanne Crain said today she was shocked and upset over her estranged husband's charges that she carried on an extra-marital affair with married aircraft executive Homer Rhoads.

Her estranged husband, Paul Brinkman, 37, Thursday in a cross complaint divorce action accused his 30-year-old wife of having been intimate with Rhoads "on two occasions last December."

Miss Crain and Rhoads both denied the charges.

"He (Brinkman) has already broken my heart," the red-haired beauty said. "Now he is trying to break my spirit."

Brinkman, one time radio manufacturer, also charged Rhoads and Miss Crain had romanced on several other occasions "in the city of Los Angeles." His suit declared she was an "unfit and improper person" and he therefore sought custody of their four children.

Arrest Labor Agitators In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UP) — The government arrested scores of labor agitators today for causing new disorders at La Plata, scene of the bitterest fighting in Sunday's abortive counter-revolution by Peronist sympathizers.

The disorders broke out soon after a gang of vigilantes armed with machineguns raided the residence of the Haitian ambassador in Buenos Aires and captured former Gen. Raul Lanco, one of the leaders of Sunday's revolt.

The Argentine government apologized to Ambassador Jean Brierre for the violation of his diplomatic immunity and returned the fugitive rebel leader in recognition of Latin America's traditional privilege of asylum for wanted political leaders.

Send Strongarm Squads

The pro-Peronist labor agitators sent strongarm squads to the big packinghouses in La Plata, formerly Eva Peron, and prevented workers on the midnight shift from entering the plants. They forced them out of buses and cars and made them leave the area.

The plants affected included the American-owned Swift and Armour plants. The workers there had been a potent force in ousted dictator Juan D. Peron's Confederation of Labor. In fighting at La Plata Sunday four persons were killed and 20 wounded in street fighting.

Police guards were set up but the situation was reported calm later this morning. Police said the guard was posted to guarantee the right of all employees who want to work.

Dutch Gov't Denies Rumors of Divorce By Queen Juliana, Prince Bernhard

AMSTERDAM (UP) — The Dutch government took the unprecedented step Thursday night of denying rumors of a divorce between Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard because of the queen's trust in a faith healer.

And the faith healer, Miss Greet Hofmans, a 61-year-old spinster, told the United Press today she exercised no influence over the queen and that her sole mission in life was to dedicate people to Christ.

The government's official denial broke a strict government rule that no statements are made concerning the personal affairs of the royal family. Dutch newspapers already had departed from tradition by reprinting the foreign rumors about the queen.

Both developments indicated that the reports of a rift between Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard had deeply shocked the nation.

A Dutch government spokesman said the government was issuing the denial "notwithstanding the silliness of these rumors" that the queen was contemplating a divorce. The brief statement was telephoned to correspondents here.

"A government spokesman emphatically denies any rumors which have been circulating in the foreign press relating to divorce proceedings having been planned or initiated."

Shawnee Area Counties to Form Tourist Groups

The individual counties comprising the six-county Shawnee Hills Recreation Area, formed June 5 at Southern Illinois university, will be forming county tourist committees within the next week or two.

The Pope County Tourist committee will be set up in the court house at Golconda at 7:30 p. m. Monday with Sen. Glen O. Jones of Raleigh speaking at this meeting and at a Golconda Rotary club meeting that will precede at 6 p. m. Rex Karnes, assistant director of Area Services at SIU, will assist in the organization.

Jones and Karnes will be present also at Rosiclare at 7:30 p. m. Friday, June 22, when the Hardin County Tourist committee will be organized at the high school gym.

The organization of the Saline County Tourist committee has been set for 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, June 26, at the Harrisburg city hall. This will be a public meeting, to which all persons of the county interested in the promotion of tourist trade are invited to attend. William H. Farley, secretary-treasurer of the Shawnee Hills Recreation area, of which George M. Sherrer of Shawneetown is president and Ray Mittendorf of Metropolis is vice president, will preside at the Harrisburg meeting.

Organization meetings also are slated for Gallatin, Johnson and Massac counties.

Wife Allergic to Husband

U. S., Britain Sign A-Pact

WASHINGTON (UP) — American officials said today the new U. S.-British agreement on atomic engines will cut down wasteful duplication in development of atom power for submarines, planes and land vehicles.

The agreement, announced Thursday by the State Department and Atomic Energy Commission, provides for exchange of information on atomic reactors for propelling various craft. Under it, the British will get data about the Nautilus, America's pioneer atomic submarine.

The new agreement is the only one of its kind negotiated under the present atomic energy law. It was understood, however, that a second is in the works with Canada.

U. S. officials said the chief value of such pacts is coordination of plans for developing atom power for war. It probably will lead to standardization of such craft.

The Red Cross disaster service provided rehabilitation aid to an average of one family every 78 minutes during 1954.

By W. Edmunds Claussen

Copr. 1936 by W. Edmunds Claussen, Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Many people seem to object to the presence of Frank Ude in Cashtown. Frank had been attacked in the Alhambra saloon and he had been warned to leave town. Frank meets Emmett Cash, who brought Frank to Cashtown. Frank suspects Emmett is an out-law.

Frank spoke more sharply to Emmett Cash, "You've got a tough outfit. I looked them over when I was riding with you. Some salty Texans with your bunch."
"Tascosa," Emmett laughed. "Most of those boys got in trouble with the Comancheros. They had to get out for a while and were glad for the chance to ride with me."

Frank got it then; the trouble Emmett referred to would be over stolen horses. Near Tascosa one of the ancient horse-thief trails led into Old Mexico from the north, used by Indians and renegade whites for years in smuggling stock and looted goods from one country to another.

Emmett stroked his gray with spurs, heading into an old road that climbed steeply across the shoulder of the mountain. Emmett gave him a secretive glance. "She say anything about me? Jean Cash?"

Frank held his mask of indifference and shook his head. Even now his conscience whispered he was riding with Emmett because of Jean.

"She's my half-sister. For five years she talked against me till the old man wrote everything into her name."

It was difficult to accept. When they gained a level stretch of the ore road Frank shook his head. "I don't play the game against women Emmett."

Emmett swiveled about on his saddle, his lips flared back from his teeth. "I thought you hated women?"

"I don't fight them with guns," Emmett grinned crookedly. "If it makes it any easier I'll tell you this. What she owns belongs to me. There's nothing wrong in taking back what's yours. She's playing around with Norring. He's out to grab Rafter C with or without her. She's so stupid she can't see what he's after. I don't mean to let Norring get away with what's mine."

Frank shrugged. "Still doesn't cut any mustard with me."

"She got her claws in you already?" Emmett asked caustically. "Let me tell you something. While she's inviting Norring to pay her visits he's stolen her crew from her. She's got nearly a hundred head of fresh remounts ready to move to Fort McHenry. How far do you suppose a woman can haze a big string like that?"

"Not far," Frank admitted, and he was positive of one thing that had not been a dead certainty with him before. "It was Norring who jumped us in the Signals."

"Right," Emmett grinned harshly. "Milo Hackett rode that crew. He had a dozen men chasing us that night. The horses are down there now on one of Norring's pasture lots."

"They wouldn't be hard to hide in this country. Not with everyone afraid of Norring."

"Well, I know where he's hiding them. We're going to take them away from Norring. When Jean tries to trail that big string around the Signals I'll lift the whole bunch."

Frank found his attitude toward Emmett turning more unfriendly every moment. "Your sister doesn't stand a show with two outfits fighting over her."

"That's it!" Emmett was scowling wickedly. "We're going to make sure we're the outfit that comes out on top!"

Presently Emmett drew to one side of the ore trail, allowing Frank's chestnut to move ahead. Frank sensed the other man's eyes against his back. He had been nicely caught in a sucker's game. A false move on his part would send Emmett pulling on a gun. Reaching the summit he glanced over his shoulder for a final glimpse of Cashtown. He located a posse climbing the lower rises between the pines and understood why Emmett had maneuvered to get him in front of his guns.

Sheriff Chantry had caught glimpses of them on the first curves of the ore trail and gotten together this crew. Frank's glance shuttled to Emmett with fierce self-condemnation cutting him. He called himself the worst kind of a fool for accepting Emmett's proposition. An hour ago he had been a free man without a flaw the law might find against him. Now a half dozen hired possemen hammered their backtrail.

Emmett tossed his head slyly toward the posse, and spat defiantly. "Lew Chantry. Did you kill Milo Hackett?"

Emmett was shifting the blame onto him. He shook his head, still watching Emmett's face grow corded under emotions. He said quietly, "This is one fight I'll take no part of, Emmett. Here's where our road forks. You pick your trail—I'll drift the other way."

"That's not how I want it, friend. You'll ride with us!"

Anger pulled at Frank's throat. "I'll not join any ridge-runner!"

Emmett's eyes turned into narrow slits. He shot a swift glance toward the lower trail and said quietly, "Wait, friend. It's possible they're not after either of us. Look at Chantry—he don't seem like he's breaking into a sweat climbing these slants."

Frank's eyes veered to the down-trail. Then came the unexpected blast of a saddle gun. One of the possemen pitched wildly under Emmett's shot.

Frank knew Emmett had done this purposely to outlaw them both. (To Be Continued)

Shuman Credits Farm Policy for Price Strength

APPLETON, Wis. (AP)—Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Thursday night credited administration farm policies with halting falling farm prices.

The administration-backed flexible price support system is the reason that "for the first time in five years the downward trend of farm prices has been halted," Shuman said.

He warned that the current steel talks might hurt farmers if they result in a wage boost and higher prices.

"The farmer, a big user of steel, is faced with another dose of the old cost-price squeeze," Shuman said.

Bob Grim Hurls 4-Hitter As Yankees Defeat White Sox, 5-1; Mantle Homers

By United Press
The Yankees were looking high and low for another pitcher as "pennant insurance" and it may be they've finally found him today in Bob Grim, a right hander who some people were beginning to think was just another of those one-year wonders.

Relegated to the bullpen earlier, this season when he failed to impress anyone, the 26-year-old Grim turned in by far his best performance of the campaign Thursday, defeating the White Sox, 5-1, and stretching the Yankees' lead in the American league to five games.

Grim, a 20-game winner in 1954 and the American league "rookie of the year" spent part of last year on the disabled list and wound up with an ordinary 7-5 record.

Grim, who had not pitched a complete game victory since May 29, 1955 when he beat Baltimore, 1-0, struck out nine White Sox batters, walked only one and gave up four hits. Chicago's only run came as a result of a fourth-inning homer by Dave Philley, who was ejected from the game in the sixth because of a stormy third-strike protest.

Mickey Mantle led a 10-hit attack with his 22nd homer and a double, his homer off loser Jim Wilson in the fourth putting him one game ahead of Babe Ruth's record pace again. For Grim, it was his fourth victory without a defeat while Wilson suffered his third loss against eight victories.

Only two other games were played in the majors Thursday with the Red Sox outlasting the Indians, 10-9, and the Braves beating the Giants, 5-2.

Jackie Jensen drove in four runs and Dick Gernert three in Boston's triumph, which was credited to Ike Delock. Jensen hit a three-run homer off Bob Lemon in the third inning and before he left the scene, Lemon was trailing 8-3. The Red Sox scored what proved to be the decisive runs in the fifth on Don Buddin's double, a sacrifice, Jim Piersall's triple and Gernert's single.

Southpaw Warren Spahn, who had not won a game since May 17, struck out 10 batters and walked only one in nailing down his fourth victory. Spahn scattered seven hits and Willie Mays collected three of them, a homer and two singles.

Del Crandall hit a two-run home run off loser Ruben Gomez to tie the score at 2-2 in the fifth inning and the Braves wrapped up the contest with two more runs in the sixth.

Needles Odds-On Choice to Win Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (AP)—The field for the 88th running of the $100,000 added Belmont Stakes Saturday probably will be made up of eight 3-year-olds with Needles, the Kentucky Derby winner, the odds-on choice to take down the third leg of the Triple Crown classic.

Seven interests in all will be represented in the mile and one-half race if Fabius, Career Boy, Jazz Age, Ricci Tavi, Beau Diable, Charlevoix and Frosty Mr. Line up against Needles. Career Boy and Jazz Age are C. V. Whitney's entry.

There is a possibility Gun Shot may be entered, but no matter how big or small the field, Needles will be the one to beat since the wide turns and long straightaway at Belmont Park favor the late running son of Ponder.

Needles won the derby with a stirring stretch drive, but when the same tactics were tried in the Preakness at Pimlico, they failed because of the narrow turns and short stretch run.

Giants Insisted on Young Jackie Brandt in Player Trade with Cards

NEW YORK (AP)—Without young Jackie Brandt there would have been "no deal," but because he was included most baseball men were convinced today that the Giants outstickered the Cardinals just as they did the Braves in 1954.

The Giants insisted on Brandt, a 22-year-old rookie outfielder, being included in Thursday's eight-player deal with St. Louis the same way they insisted upon having southpaw Johnny Antonelli in their six-player trade with Milwaukee two years ago.

Antonelli developed into a star with the Giants while the key man they gave up, outfielder Bobby Thomson, never lived up to expectations with the Braves.

"We're very excited about getting Brandt," said Giant Vice President Chub Feeney. "We wouldn't have made the deal without him. He can run, he can throw and he can hit. He gives us what we needed most, a good, young righthanded hitter. Frankly, we were surprised that the Cards would let him go."

General Manager Frank Lane of the Cardinals, who gave up veteran second baseman Al (Red) Schoendienst, catcher Bill Sarni and pitcher Dick Littlefield in addition to Brandt for shortstop Alvin Dark, first baseman-outfielder Whitey Lockman, catcher Ray Katt and pitcher Don Liddle, hinted that Brandt might turn out to be a stand-out for the Giants.

"Brandt could come back to haunt us," Lane said, "but we're thinking of '56, not next year. Hutch (Card Manager Fred Hutchinson) and I both agreed we did not have a chance to stay up in the race unless we strengthened the team defensively at shortstop and at first base."

The deal was the 12th one made by Lane since he took over as general manager of the Redbirds last fall. Although no money changed hands, the transaction involved the biggest names between the two clubs since the Giants bought catcher Walker Cooper from the Cards for $175,000 in 1946.

But the Yankees and Athletics also figured in another four-player deal of their own.

Eddie Robinson, 35-year-old long ball hitting first baseman, was sent to Kansas City by the Yankees along with outfielder Lou Skizas, who was with the Yanks' Richmond farm club in the International League.

In exchange, the Yankees acquired Ed Bertschy and outfielder Bill Renna, both of whom were assigned to Richmond, along with an undisclosed amount of cash. The Yankees also brought up outfielder Norm Siebern from Denver of the American Assn. and restored shortstop Billy Hunter to the active list.

Gophers Win Collegiate Title

OMAHA (AP)—The University of Minnesota baseball team headed back home as the 1956 national collegiate champion by virtue of a thumping 12-1 victory over Arizona.

Powerful Gopher hitters pounded three Arizona hurlers for 14 hits Thursday night in producing the biggest rout of the 15-game NCAA collegiate series. Bill Horning paced the Minnesota sluggers with a home run in the fifth inning and another in the seventh.

Jerry Thomas, named outstanding player of the tournament, held Arizona to five hits to earn his second win over the Arizona club. Thomas pitched the entire route, but Ernie Oosterveen was relieved in the fourth to mark the first time in the series that an Arizona moundman failed to complete his assignment.

The Gophers wasted no time in piling up a three-run margin in the first inning. They bolstered their lead with another run in the fourth and a six-run spurge in the fifth.

Minnesota's final two tallies scored in the seventh on Horning's homer. The Gopher march to victory was aided by five Arizona errors.

The only Arizona run crossed the plate in the sixth frame on a walk, an error and a passed ball.

Hamia Favored Over Berrios in TV Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Handsome Cherif Hamia, the French "picture fighter" whose ambitions are focused on the featherweight crown, is favored at 6-5 to beat fiery, savaged-off Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico tonight in their TV-radio 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Trim, dimpled Hamia risks his third ranking among 126-pound contenders and his unbeaten string of 11 against prestige-hungry Berrios, engaging in his first Garden main event.

Because he is an excellent boxer-puncher, although seemingly somewhat fragile, 25-year-old Hamia is favored over Berrios, a low-slung bobbler-weaver who tosses much leather but is a comparatively light hitter. Berrios, 23, has knocked out only three of his 21 opponents, whereas Algerian-born Cherif stopped 13 of his 27.

Social Brethren, Pirates, Pankey's Win Games in Kiwanis League

By David Nelson
The Social Brethren team defeated the Pirates, 17-6; the Pirates slaughtered Walker's Cleaners, 19-2, and Pankey's Bakery downed Jackson's Drugs, 6-4, in Kiwanis league baseball games played Thursday.

Social Brethren led the Braves all over as it won its second game in the Three-I league, 17-6. The winners scored 10 runs in the first, two in the second, four in the third and one in the fourth on 14 hits, five errors and four bases on balls. The losing Braves scored one in the first, two in the second and three in the third on five hits, one error and 10 free passes.

Stricklin led the winners at bat by slugging three home runs and a single in four times at bat. Oglesby had three singles, Agin doubled and singled, Asbell doubled twice, Brocardo tripled, Hagan singled and Price had one safe blow to round out the Social Brethren hitting attack. Hagan was the winning pitcher, Maszaros and Seten pitching for the Braves.

S. Howton pitched a two-hitter and hit two home runs to lead the Pirates to a 19-2 win over Walker's. The Pirates tallied three times in the first, four in the second, six in the third, three in the fourth and three in the sixth on 11 hits, 12 bases on balls and two errors. Walker's scored one in the third and one in the seventh on two hits, two walks and one error.

For the winners at the plate S. Howton had two homers and two singles, Craver had a home run and two singles, Vick homered and N. Howton, Summers and Smith singled. Pavalonis and Cannon had the only hits for the losers. Hodson and Cannon com-

Old Hickory Barons To Play Legion Here Saturday Night

The Harrisburg Legion baseball team will play host to the Old Hickory Barons of Nashville, Tenn., here Saturday night under the lights at the new VFW field adjacent to the fairgrounds. The Barons have had a very successful season so far this year having copped 16 games in a row previous to their encounter with the Elite Giants at Nashville Sunday, results of which game have not become known to the local management as yet. The Barons are playing in this area Sunday also when they take on Big Jim Bumpus and his Kentucky Cardinals at Uniontown, Ky.

The Legion has strengthened itself for this game with the addition of a couple of players who played with the club last season. Carl "Flash" Griffiths and Marion "Dick" Odle are returning to play with the locals during the remainder of the season.

Drawing the starting assignment for the Legion on the hill will probably be Big Bill McNew with Dick Romanosky as his battery mate. For the Barons either Woods or Black will start on the mound. Game time is 8 p. m. and baseball lovers of this area can see some fine action by putting in an appearance at that time.

File Appeal Against Decision Upholding Broyles Loyalty Oath Law

SPRINGFIELD — An appeal was filed with the Illinois Supreme Court Thursday against a Cook County Circuit Court decision upholding the Broyles loyalty oath law.

The appeal was filed on behalf of three Chicago school teachers who contend the 1955 law is unconstitutional. They are Shirley Lens, Sara Pickus and Albert Soglin.

The law forbids payment of state money to teachers, state workers and certain other groups of public employees who refuse to sign a "loyalty" oath.

Two Tigers Escape Circus in Rome

ROME (UP) — Two tigers broke out of a circus today and ran free through a densely populated section of downtown Rome.

Emergency squads from the Rome fire department and riot police formed a human chain to try to confine the wild animals to the immediate vicinity of the circus.

They captured one of the tigers but the second was still free an hour after the escape.

Coffee Prices Again Going Up

NEW YORK — Coffee prices are going up again and marketers predicted today they go even higher.

Consumers soon will be paying at least three cents a pound more for their favorite brands. Two of the nation's largest coffee processors and several smaller regional companies announced three-cent hikes on vacuum-packed brands Thursday.

The price boost has already gone into effect for General Foods Corp., makers of Maxwell House, and Standard Brands Inc., makers of Chase & Sanborn.

S. A. Schonbrun & Co. also hiked its wholesale price on Savarain brand. Beech-Nut Packing Co. and Chock Full O' Nuts Corp. said similar boosts on their brands would be effective this Monday. Spokesmen for other processing companies indicated they would follow suit within a few days.

Instant coffee will also rise in price by at least eight cents per six-ounce jar.

Violence Again Breaks Out at Girls' State Training School

GENEVA, Ill. — Violence broke out again at the riot-ridden State Training School for Girls Thursday night.

One of 24 girls locked up in solitary confinement broke out of her room and fought with a state policeman who tried to get her back in.

When the girl was finally locked up again, officials said, she dismantled her bed and used the pieces to smash two windows and beat upon the wall.

Meanwhile, other girls screamed encouragement at each other for the third straight night. Many of the girls locked up for their part in previous riots urged other girls to attack the matrons.

Two squads of state policemen have been on duty at the school since Wednesday.

Live Cancer Cells Injected into Bodies Of Prison Volunteers

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Fourteen inmates of Ohio Penitentiary today voluntarily tested the effects of live cancer cells injected into their bodies.

Prison officials said 134 inmates volunteered for the injections Thursday.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis said Dr. Alice Moore and Dr. Chester M. Southam of the Sloan-Kettering Institute of New York and Dr. Charles A. Doan and Dr. Arthur James of the Ohio State University Research Center administered the shots.

The doctors refused to say whether the prisoners might contract the disease. They said they hoped to learn how the body kills off the cancerous tissues which have been injected.

22 Freight Cars Derail

TAYLORVILLE, Ill. — Twenty-two cars of a 102-car Wabash railroad freight train went off the tracks Thursday night, blocking the railroad's main line between Chicago and St. Louis.

A faulty journal derailed the Chicago-bound freight cars south of the Taylorville passenger depot, officials said. No one was injured and service was restored early today on one of the four main-line tracks.

Grayville Youth Outspeeds Police, Sentenced to Jail

GRAYVILLE, Ill. — A Mount Carmel youth is going to have time to think over a fast drive he took Wednesday morning.

Terry Whaley, 17, was taken to White county jail at Carmi today to begin serving 67 days in lieu of paying a $100 fine. He was convicted of reckless driving and police said the reckless driving consisted of Whaley speeding 115-miles per hour.

Grayville police chased Whaley but couldn't catch him. They radioed ahead and a state police car blocked a bridge and stopped Whaley.

Eye Doctor Calls Wrap-Around Windshield 'Diabolical Device'

CHICAGO — An eye doctor said today that the wrap-around windshield is a "diabolical device" that creates visual distortions which would lead to traffic accidents.

Dr. DuPont Guerry, chairman of the department of ophthalmology, Medical College of Virginia, made the assertion at the close of the American Medical Association's 105th annual convention.

Guerry said the wrap-around windshield violates "all basic optical principles" and creates distortion and increased glare.

He charged that automobile

Best Seller that's hard to beat

*This '56 Buick

new features—
and priced close to the smaller cars!*

WANT SOME QUICK FACTS on the big news in automobiles today—news that can guide you to a smart move and a real smart buy?

Then listen—it won't take long.

The 1956 Buick has so many new developments—in styling—in power—in performance—in ride and handling—that it is, literally, the best Buick yet. That's Fact No. 1.

And Fact No. 2 proves it: Buick today is more strongly entrenched than ever in the top three of the nation's best sellers—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller cars.

One big reason for this success is the strapping new Buick SPECIAL—like the one pictured here.

It's priced close to those smaller cars—but, like every '56 Buick, it's a whale of a lot more new car for the money.

It cradles a big, new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine that's record-high in power and compression, and crammed with engineering news even the costly cars can't claim.

It makes the most of every bit of power with a new version of Variable Pitch Dynaflo® that's the most efficient yet. With a new development the engineers call "double regeneration," Dynaflo gives you great new acceleration from the first thrifty inch of pedal pressure. Even before you switch the pitch.

And this '56 Buick cushions you in the softest ride ever. Shows an uncanny sense of direction on every curve and turn. Puts a whole new feeling of safety, security and solidity into every mile you drive.

So before you buy any car—catch up on the latest news. Come try a '56 Buick. When you see how much new automobile you can buy, we don't think you'll ever settle for less.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.
